Special Conditions:

Notwithstanding any other provision contained in the Cargill Grower Purchase Contract and any other provisions in any agreement for the warehousing and storage of the canola the terms of which apply to all deliveries the subject of this declaration:

- Where this declaration is given by a representative of the Grower, that representative warrants that they are authorised to give this declaration on behalf, and as the agent, of the Grower.
- Cargill and its servants, agents, related bodies, affiliates and counterparties will rely on the accuracy and completeness of this declaration in its storage and handling of the commodity and in its dealings with third parties including making declarations and statements to third parties. You should therefore, not complete this declaration if it could amount to a false, misleading, incomplete or inaccurate declaration.
- A representative sample of each delivered load of canola will be kept by Cargill or its servants, agents, related bodies, affiliates and counterparties. Without limiting paragraph 2, this sample may be tested specifically for the presence of genetically modified material and for its fatty acid profile. Cargill is not obliged, however, to conduct such testing and will rely on the certification provided by you in this declaration.
- In the event that genetically modified material is found in the commodity or the Oleic or Linolenic acid concentrations are out of specification, the sample may be required for re-testing to confirm results and may form part of legal proceedings taken against the Grower.
